

Vacancy: Project Management Assistant 100% (m/f)

Blueyou is an internationally recognized consultancy for sustainable aquaculture and fisheries. The company offers a range of specific services in the field of sustainable fisheries and aquaculture and the related supply chains. Clients of Blueyou encompass private industries in both production and market sectors, governmental bodies and leading NGO's in marine conservation and sustainable development areas worldwide. For our shrimp aquaculture improvement projects in Thailand we are currently looking for a Project Management Assistant to be based in Bangkok with frequent visits to aquaculture project sites in Thailand and SE Asia.

Job Profile

- Implementation of sustainable aquaculture projects on farm level according to international standards
- Assistance with guidance and training of local field staff and farmers in Thailand
- Assistance with capacity building, training and coaching of local partners and clients (farming and processing operations)
- Quality assurance & sustainable aquaculture standard compliance procedures along the supply chain
- Elaboration of documentation and monitoring tools for standard compliance and performance of farms
- Species focus is on Shrimp and Tilapia
- Organizing and guiding tours of projects for international buyers

Qualification Profile

- Degree in business administration or equivalent experience
- Professional or practical experience in seafood business
- Native Thai speaker with excellent skills in English (oral and written)
- Excellent skills in Microsoft office applications (Word, Excel)
- Knowledge and experience in implementation of aquaculture and/or quality assurance related standards
- Good knowledge of Thai shrimp sector (actors, regulations, governmental bodies) and network is a plus
- Excellent communication skills, reliability and good analytical capacities
- Confident, honest and autonomous person

We are looking for an open minded and highly motivated work colleague between 25 and 35 who shares our vision and engagement of facilitating a sustainable future for the world's fisheries and aquaculture sector. The position will involve travelling and longer term mandates mainly in the Gulf of Thailand and Andaman Sea area with the possibility for short-term mandates in other SE Asian countries. Blueyou offers an interesting and diversified job within a dynamic team of consultants with a great outlook for professional development in an international business environment.

Please send your application including cover letter, CV, references and photograph to:
Corey Peet, Project Manager Blueyou Rep Office Thailand by e-mail: corey.peet@blueyou.com